Tentative Travel Schedules

For Truman Visit
To Fulton; Senate
Resolution to Name
Welcome Committee

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—(P)—The White House today announced tentative train schedules for President Truman's visits to Fulton, Mo., March 5, and Columbus, Ohio, March 6.

White House Press Secretary Charles G. Ross said the President and Winston Churchill will leave here by train at 2 p. m. (EST) Monday for Fulton, where the former British prime minister speaks Tuesday, before a Westminster college audience. He will be introduced by Mr. Truman.

Mr. Churchill will accompany Mr. Truman to Columbus for the latter's 20 minute speech March 6 at a special meeting of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America.

The President and Mr. Churchill will go to Fulton via the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. The party will arrive at St. Louis at 8:45 a. m. (CST) Tuesday and leave 15 minutes later over the Missouri Pacific for Jefferson City where it will arrive at 10:30 a. m. (CST).

Motor to College
Members of the party will leave the train at Jefferson City and motor to Westminster college, a distance of about 30 miles.

After the college ceremony, which begins at 3 p. m., the party will motor back to Jefferson City to board the train at 5:30 p. m. (CST) and arrive in St. Louis at 8 p. m. (CST).

Changing back to the B & O, the party will leave St. Louis at 8:15 p. m. (CST) and arrive in Columbus at 10:30 a. m. (CST). The President will remain on the train at Columbus until time for his speech, about noon.

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 26.—(P)—The Missouri Senate adopted a resolution today to name a welcoming committee of four members of each house of the general assembly to greet President Harry S. Truman and former British Prime Minister Winston Churchill when they pause in the Capital City March 5.

Churchill is to make an address before Westminster college in Fulton that afternoon on the invitation of the school's president, Dr. Frank L. McCluer.

Senator H. R. Williams, republican floor leader, said he regretted the President and Britain's wartime premier "had not seen fit" to appear before the legislature, but he wanted the assembly to extend a cordial welcome to the visitors during their brief time here.

May Name Group Today
If the House adopts the resolution, the welcoming committee probably can be named later today, Senator Williams said.

Meanwhile, Gov. Phil M. Donnelly said he understood an official greeting party would meet President Truman and Churchill at the railroad station for a brief parade through the downtown section of Jefferson City.

The Governor said he, Dr. McCluer and other members of the party would ride with the visitors in open cars down High street, around Missouri's capitol and then would change to closed automobiles for the 31-mile trip to Fulton.

Rural Campaign For Red Cross

The 1946 Red Cross Campaign will begin in rural Pettis county, Friday, March 1, as announced by Leon Archias and J. U. Morris, co-chairmen of the rural division. The county campaign is being organized under chairmen and co-chairmen of each township.

Of the county goal of $21,171, about one-third or $7,038 is assigned to Pettis county outside of Sedalia. The goal for all of Pettis county for this year is less than the goal for 1945 and the rural quota is proportionately lower.

In announcing the date for the rural campaign, co-chairmen Archias and Morris stated that they were certain that residents of rural Pettis county would give their full support to the Red Cross Fund Campaign in view of increased home service work and the active continuation of other Red Cross services such as disaster preparedness and relief and accident prevention.

The Fund Campaign will be conducted in Sedalia during the week of March 11 to 16.

Break in Case Of Columbia Girl Murdered

Negro Charged With Killing His Wife Is Being Questioned

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 26.—(P)—Floyd Cochran, 34, Columbia Negro charged yesterday with the murder of his wife, Mae Anna Cochran, made admissions to officers early this morning implicating himself in the slaying of Mary Lou Jenkins, 20, Col. Hugh H. Waggoner, superintendent of the State Highway Patrol, announced.

"This is the first break in the Jenkins case," Colonel Waggoner said. Cochran lived near the Jenkins home until a few years ago and was known to the Jenkins family, Waggoner said.

Cochran has been removed from Columbia pending further investigation. Miss Jenkins, a graduate of Stephens college at Columbia, was found raped and strangled at the home of her parents in Columbia early February 6.

COLUMBIA, Mo., Feb. 26.—(P)—Floyd Cochran, 34, Negro who is being held here on suspicion of insanity and on a charge of killing his wife, has made admissions implicating him in the murder of Marylou Jenkins, according to a joint statement of investigating officers made public here today.

The officers refused to amplify the statement. Signing it were Chief of Police N. R. Hagan, prosecuting attorney George A. Spencer, Sheriff Duke Moynihan and Coy. Hugh Waggoner of the State Highway Patrol.

Miss Jenkins was strangled and raped here the night of February 6.

Cochran was arrested by police and sheriffs officers Saturday afternoon after trying to commit suicide. He told rambling stories to the officers, and the next morning his wife, Mae Anna, was found shot to death in their one-room home at the northern edge of Columbia.

Cochran denied knowledge of his wife's death and a coroner's jury yesterday returned an open verdict in the case. Testimony showed that a relatives found Mrs. Cochran's body when she went to the wife's signature to papers to commit Cochran to a state hospital for the insane upon recommendation of a physician.

No Signed Statement
So far as could be ascertained, Cochran did not make a signed statement, and did not admit any connection with Miss Jenkins' death or with that of his wife, for which latter crime he now faces a charge of first degree murder.

None of the investigating officers would describe the character of what their statement described as "admissions."

Nor would any of them comment upon Cochran's credibility viewed in the light of efforts in the last few days to commit him to a state hospital for the insane.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—(P)—President Truman, today announced the appointment of Julius A. Krug, former War Production Board chairman, as Secretary of Interior.

He told his news conference the appointment was a personal one which he did not disclose to members of the White House inner circle until this morning.

The 38-year old Krug, former power manager for the Tennessee Valley Authority, succeeds Harold L. Ickes. Krug is now in New York as a business consultant.

Mr. Truman said he had considered a large number of names, including that of Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) before making his selection.

Increases in Meat Ceilings

Average for Each Family Not Over 1½ Per Cent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—(P)—The government today authorized increases in the ceiling prices in the meat packing industry and forecast that retail prices will rise about 1½ per cent.

Stabilization Director Chester Bowles took the action after the wage stabilization board ordered Secretary of Agriculture Anderson to put into effect immediately a general pay boost of 16 cents an hour for packing house workers.

The wage hike previously had been recommended by a government fact-finding panel.

Bowles announced specific price increases for the packing industry but said the OPA industry advisory committee would meet with government representatives in a few days "to advise with regard to changes required in wholesale and retail ceilings."

Average Family Increase
"The increase in meat prices for the average family should not amount to more than 1½ per cent," Bowles said.

The ceiling price increase will be adequate, Bowles said, to permit the packing industry to realize 45 cents more per 100 pounds on beef, veal and lamb, and 55 cents more per 100 pounds on pork on an overall, dressed carcass weight basis on sales for domestic, civilian use.

In addition, ceiling prices of meat and meat products for purchase by the federal government will be further increased "by amounts equivalent to an average of 25 cents per 100 pounds."

Women Worry Senators, They Want Hose

Bennett Wants OPA To Make Rayons And Exports Halted

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—(P)—The bare facts are that a lot of American women have no hosiery and they are raising one of the greatest hullabaloes some congressmen ever have heard from their constituents.

But John D. Small, civilian production administrator, had comforting news today for senators harassed by women threatening to fight them in the next election if they don't help get nylons.

Small said there would be six or seven pairs of nylons this year for every woman in the nation.

"Production of all three types of women's hosiery, other than anklets, during 1946 is expected to be approximately 480,000,000 pairs," he said.

"This would be sufficient to provide a maximum of ten pairs of some kind of stockings for each woman in the United States this year is completely equitable distribution could be secured. Six or seven of those ten will probably be nylons."

Deluge of Mail
A deluge of mail from women vexed by the stocking situation began arriving in Washington several days ago.

Rep. Bennett (R-Mo) said he received "500 letters and cards already. I've been in congress six years and this is the biggest single day's mail I've ever received."

His stocking mail started pouring in after a Springfield, Mo., merchant said in a newspaper advertisement that the war production board rescinded an order last October setting aside rayon for women's hosiery.

Not Reaching Markets
Bennett said the OPA told him they didn't believe all of the 30,000,000 nylons being manufactured each month are reaching markets, but some may be hoarded by speculators and women purchasers. He was told most rayon now is used in manufacturing undergarments.

He also said he learned that 569,951 dozens of pairs of women's hose were exported in 1945, most of them to South America and others to Iceland, the Philippines, India, Mexico and New Zealand.

Bennett said he has demanded that OPA reinstate its rayon order and permit manufacturers to make rayon hose until there is a greater supply of nylons and silk hose on the market. He also wants exports halted.

Two Elderly And Blind Men Beaten

Struck With Cane By Companion Who Is 75 Years Old

"Self Defense," Elias Grant Davis, 75 years old, said to Deputy Sheriff Ernest Beyer, when he was arrested for beating two eighty year old blind men over their heads with a walking stick and for trying to assault Mrs. Mary E. Wasson, and her daughter, Miss Marguerite Wasson, with a claw hammer about 4 o'clock Monday afternoon. The fracas took place at the farm home of Mrs. Wasson who has been caring for Davis and three other old age pensioners. The home is located about five miles north and east of Sedalia.

The two men were George Russell Caldwell, 92 years old, and George Hilligoss, 80 years old, and both suffered painful but not serious scalp lacerations and bruises about their heads. Caldwell's right hand was badly swollen from being struck across the back, while Hilligoss suffered an injury to his left wrist and a possible fracture of a bone at the wrist.

Davis this afternoon was charged with assault with intent to kill. The charges were filed in the court of Justice of the Peace A. M. Harlan and he is expected to be taken before Judge Harlan late this afternoon. He is being held in the county jail.

Mr. Caldwell told a newspaper reporter, "I don't know what was the matter with Davis. He said he was going to kill the all of us. Mr. Wasson, Hilligoss, myself and the women. He was raving sometime ago about trying to get some place to stay, saying he went to Warrensburg, Marshall, and several other places but couldn't find any place but where he was. I don't think Mrs. Wasson wanted to take him in but she did."

Hilligoss told a like story but said "I just don't know what was the matter. Caldwell is completely blind and I can't see anything only barely light."

Shattered Broom-stick Cane
Davis beat the two old men over the head and arms so hard he broke his broom-stick walking cane into splinters. He then picked up a claw hammer and went after Mrs. Wasson and her daughter. They managed to keep away from him and kept his attention until help was summoned.

A call was made for the sheriff and when Deputy Sheriff Adolph Glenn immediately, he placed a call for Sergeant Fred Rodecker and Trooper Pete Stohr of the highway patrol. The troopers were on highway 40 but started immediately to the Warren farm. In the meantime Glenn was located and with Beyer they hurried to the farm, all arriving about the same time.

Davis had grown a little weary and went to the porch to sit down and rest.

Dr. E. C. Snively had been summoned and he arrived just behind the sheriff and after looking over the two old men ordered them taken to the Bothwell hospital where he treated their wounds and ordered them to be held at the hospital for further observation. X-ray pictures will be taken of their hands and arms to determine if they suffered any fractures.

Goldie White, also an old age pensioner, was not attacked by Davis, his attention turning to Mrs. Wasson and her daughter after beating Caldwell and Hilligoss.

Davis was brought to Sedalia and placed in the county jail for further observation. He has a wife and four children living in the state of California, it was said, but he had been in this part of the country for the past several years. Officer said he stated he had been separated from his wife for twenty-five years.

'Unjustifiable Smear' Says Pauley, Demands an Apology

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—(P)—Edwin W. Pauley demanded today a public apology from Senator Tobey (R-NH), for what Pauley said was an "unjustifiable smear" regarding prewar sales of his company's oil to Japan.

Pauley, a California oil man, told the senate naval committee Tobey had "come as close as he dares to charging me with treason" and asserted that his record ought to be cleared in hearings on his nomination for undersecretary of the navy.

Tobey sat silently as Pauley read from a prepared statement a quotation in which the New Hampshire senator had said that the appointee was "aiding a potential enemy" when he permitted his company to sell oil that later was resold to Japan.

In contrast, the witness said he had ordered his firm in June, 1938, or 42 months before the attack on Pearl Harbor, to stop any sales that might give Japan oil.

"Those are the facts of my record to be balanced against Senator Tobey's vile charges," Pauley said.

"In view of that record, which is based not on hearsay or supposition or imagination or even politics, I now publicly ask Senator Tobey, as a matter of plain decency and fair dealing, to make a public apology for the unjustifiable smear which he uttered in his statements regarding my connection with sales of oil to the Japanese."

Truman Eats Chili With Old Friends

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—(P)—President Truman arranged to eat some chili today with old friends in the senate.

When Leslie L. Biffle, senate secretary, mentioned in a conversation with the president that he was having some senators in at 1 p. m. to eat chili that a friend had brought up from Arkansas, the president said he liked the dish, too.

Result an invitation which Mr. Truman accepted with alacrity.

Attorney General Clark and Reconversion Director Snyder also were on the guest list. But Biffle said the occasion was purely social.

At the White House, it was stated that the president's trip to the capitol was for the sole purpose of eating the chili, prepared by Ernie Ahlfeld, Fort Smith, Ark., farmer and business man.

Houston Strike Settled

Thousands of Workers Took Holiday; Mayor to Approve Agreement

HOUSTON, Tex., Feb. 26.—(P)—The seven-day-old strike of 700 city employees of Houston was settled today after thousands of workers "took a holiday" and marched upon the city hall in support of the employees' fight for higher wages.

Mayor Otis Massey called a meeting of the city council for 12:30 p. m. to approve an agreement with labor leaders.

Under the agreement the city employees will return to their jobs tomorrow morning with full seniority rights and civil service rights unimpaired.

The civil service commission will begin an immediate study of city wage scales, comparing them with pay for comparable work in private industry in the Houston area, rather than matching them against the pay scales of other cities.

Will Correct Inequities
"I'll promise you," the mayor told D. W. Maxwell, secretary of the Houston Building Trades Council, "that if this analysis (of pay scales) shows any deficiencies or inequities in our city employees' pay, I, for one, will set about some way to correct them."

Maxwell announced the outcome of the conference in city hall to an estimated 5,000 persons assembled outside. He asked them to disband quietly.

Within a few minutes most of the demonstrators had left the place.

Maxwell asked the business representatives of the unions which had participated in the demonstration to attend a meeting in the Labor Temple immediately.

When Massey announced willingness to negotiate, Maxwell said: "Mr. Mayor, I ought to hug your neck."

He did.

Calls Council Together
"Of course, there are eight other members of the city council," Massey said. "But I will call them together, whenever you say—noon, if you like."

"No, don't interfere with the gentlemen's lunch," Maxwell said. Meanwhile, Oscar Lee Dungan, 40, president of the city-county employees union, and eight others, were indicted by the Harris county grand jury for alleged violation of the O'Daniel anti-violence strike act.

The agreement was announced after thousands of workers had remained away from their jobs and marched upon the city hall, where union spokesmen presented their grievances to the mayor.

The demonstration was orderly. Transportation snarled during the early morning hours as 700 taxi drivers joined the protest march. Loading and unloading of ships in the navigation district also halted as A. F. L. workers stayed from work.

A seven-day accumulation of uncollected garbage cluttered the streets.

Striking workers included garbage collectors, waterworkers, maintenance men, electricians, plumbers and building inspectors, carpenters, park and health department workers, street and bridge department employees, common laborers and others.

Originally, the workers sought wage increases ranging up to 25 per cent, but later union leaders offered to compromise for 9 per cent for all of the workers.

The strike had been punctuated with minor disorders and threats to close down all public utilities.

Poland Still has News Censorship
LONDON, Feb. 26.—(P)—An Associated Press survey shows that Poland is the only country in the Soviet zone of influence, extending from Russia to Germany, which still maintains a formal, officially-admitted news censorship.

The Warsaw government has informed protesting diplomats that censorship is necessary because of the presence of "subversive elements." All outgoing dispatches and everything published in Polish newspapers are studied closely by the censors, who are often advised by the Russians.

Merry-Go-Round

by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—On February 22, this column published certain facts regarding George Allen, newly appointed director of the RFC, and his insurance company connections which did Mr. Allen an injustice.

It was stated that Mr. Allen was made vice president of the Home Insurance company in 1938, at a time when the federal government was investigating the Missouri insurance scandal preparatory to convicting Kansas City Boss Tom Pendergast, lifelong friend of Harry Truman.

It was also stated that the fire insurance companies operating in Missouri had been forced to impound $9,676,002 while the courts were threshing out the question of a new rate increase, and that by promising a bribe of $750,000 to Boss Pendergast, the insurance companies were able to get 80 per cent of this nine-million-dollar kitty returned to them.

It was also stated that the Home Insurance company, which made the delightful Mr. Allen its vice president during the thick of the fight, had the heaviest amount at stake in the nine-million-dollar kitty. Although Pendergast was convicted about a year after Allen's appointment as vice president, the fire insurance executives who bribed him were not convicted.

Apologies to George Allen

Further facts in the case have now developed. And we apologize for this unintentional injustice done Mr. Allen. It is now learned that Mr. Allen not merely became vice president of the Home Insurance company, but also vice president of three other affiliated companies, all implicated in one of the worst pieces of graft in the history of American insurance.

Mr. Allen was also vice president of the National Liberty insurance company of America, the Franklin National Insurance company, and the City of New York Insurance company—all of them participating in the Pendergast bribe, and all of them hiring Geo. Allen as vice president and secretary during the significant year 1938, just as the government was probing their racket.

All the above escaped conviction, though many people considered the insurance executives who bribed Pendergast just as guilty as the man who accepted the bribe.

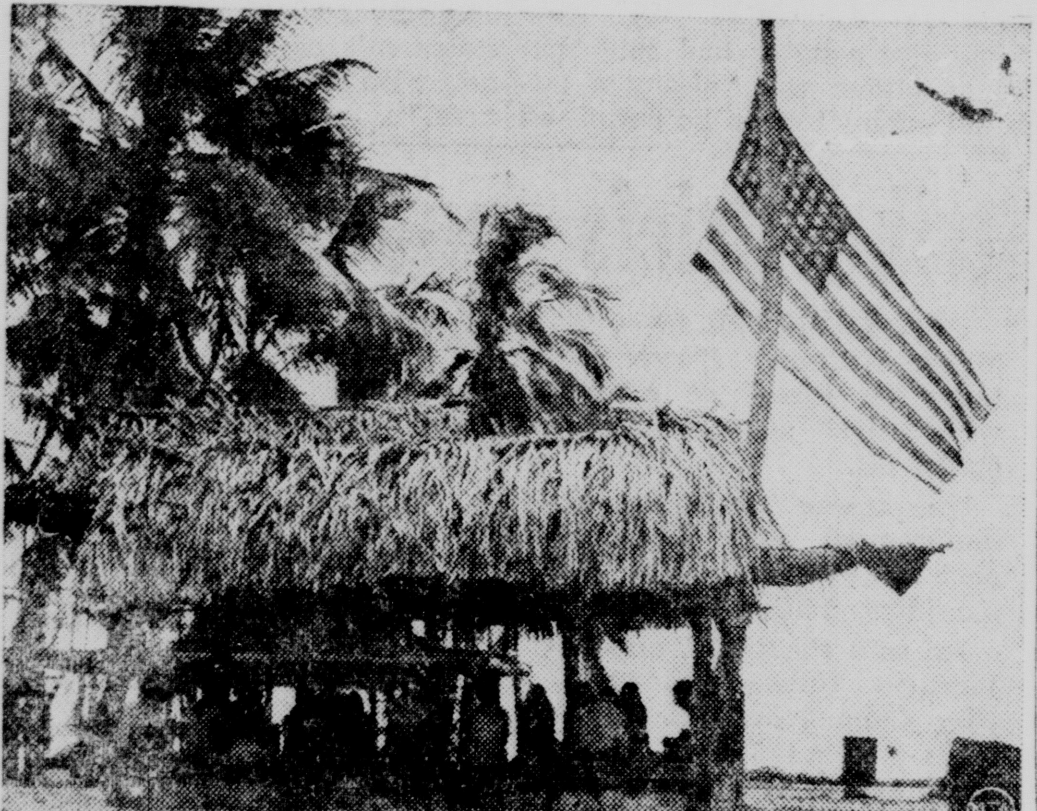

This column takes this opportunity to rectify its previous slight to Mr. Allen's prowess as the champion American holder of vice presidencies and directorships—now a director of the RFC.

Note—The RFC has loaned millions to insurance companies in the past, also to railroads and other companies which, if they had failed, would have jeopardized the financial position of insurance companies. Allen frankly admits that he will try to serve two masters—that he will keep

Pork and Children

When Henry Wallace stated that the school children of Washington, D. C., were worse fed than the hogs of Iowa, he probably didn't know about an unpublished pork barrel maneuver which took place at the last session of congress, by which school lunches were put to one side in favor of a new federal building in Nashville, Tenn.

The school lunch program was for the benefit of undernourished children throughout the country, not merely the District of Columbia. And while congress chomped this fund in two, it approved a juicy pork barrel item for guess who—Senator McKellar of Tennessee, whose word is powerful as chairman of the appropriations committee.

The department of agriculture, which has charge of the program, needed an additional $15,000,000 to continue school lunches through June 2, 1946. But, in a joint conference of appropriations committee members of the two houses, Senator McKellar, together with Representative Clarence Cannon of Missouri and other "economy" champions, pruned the $15,000,000 to $7,500,000.

Almost in the same breath, the conferees okayed a $5,575,000 expenditure for the construction of a new federal building in Senator McKellar's home state to replace the old customs house at Nashville. McKellar contended that the structure was also needed to provide a regional headquarters for the veterans administration, but several congressmen suspect this is only window dressing.

Congressman John Taber of New York, ranking Republican of the house appropriations committee, is one of them. He described the McKellar project as "absolutely unnecessary."

"There is no more reason for a building at this point than there is at a thousand other places in the United States," Taber declared. What we ought to do is put an embargo on buildings of this sort in order that the construction of dwellings and apartment houses may go forward for people without housing. Another

Increased Meat Prices

Some people are wondering whether the fact finding board for the meat packing industry took the trouble to read the newspapers. If so, they might not have recommended that the housewife bear the main burden of the cost of increased wages in the meat packing industry.

The fact finding board, which included Dr. Edwin E. Witte of Wisconsin university, Chief Justice Raymond W. Starr of the Michigan supreme court and Clark Kerr, former chairman of the meat packing branch of the War Labor Board—three able men—decided that a 16-cent pay increase was fair and equitable for meat packing workers. But they added that only 5 cents of this was "absorbable" by the meat industry without price or subsidy relief.

In other words, the fact finders recommended that the big meat packers could pay only 5 cents of the 16-cent wage increase out of their own pockets. The rest would have to be passed on to the consumer or the government. Their report was filed February seventh.

However, early in December, long before the fact finding board was appointed, a number of smaller meat packing plants had already signed contracts with the CIO and AFL for 15 cents an hour pay increase without any strings attached regarding increased meat prices.

The small packers who signed such agreements included hygrade food products of New York, Geo. A. Hormel of Austin, Minn., and others in the Chicago area.

Apparently, the fact finders did not take this into consideration. Apparently also, they ignored the fact that Swift and Company previously had agreed to a pay boost of 10 cents an hour without any strings attached regarding increased meat prices to the housewife.

For, despite Swift's offer of 10 cents an hour and the smaller companies' increase of 15 cents, the fact finders recommended that only 5 cents of the 16-cent increase could be paid for by meat packers. The remaining 11 cents will be passed on to the housewife—unless the government votes a subsidy.

I ignored a lot of things after that. As I told the story to Dru, I realized that it was the things we ignored that I remembered best. The bruises, the tears, the heartaches. In between there was happiness for Jenny, and she would excuse Hebard then, and sometimes I almost would, too. He was a fascinating man.

Hebard was transferred to Boston and my Miss Jenny was delighted. "It's just the people he has gotten in with here that has made this change in him," she said.

But things were no different in Boston. The bruises on her arms that first night in Philadelphia were nothing compared to later ones. I begged her to leave him, but she would say, "He needs me. Nana. He just loves me too much and he doesn't realize..."

"What?" I would demand, and that would be the end of the conversation. She had no answer for me. She forbade me to tell her father and whenever he came on or we went back to Westbrook, she was the happy young wife. Hebard, I think, got a certain sadistic pleasure out of being charming to her on these occasions and compensated for it later by being more disagreeable and abusive. The day I saw the marks of Hebard Pharr's fingers on her throat, I insisted that she had to go home to her father. She drew herself up proudly. "And have him regret that he didn't stop me. I knew everything, Nana. I would listen to no one. I've made my bed, I'll lie in it."

Then in the middle of 1916 Stephen Willson came to Boston to take over that territory for his father's mills and for my Miss Jenny there was some happiness. I don't know how Jenny got between them, nor how she could suddenly seem to equal them in stature. I was afraid for a moment that she would get the blow Stephen intended for Hebard, but she separated them as effectively as though she towered above them.

"It isn't true, Hebard," she said in a clear, firm voice. "I am sorry to say it isn't true. I wish it were."

I wanted to cry out, "There's your red blood, Hebard Pharr!"

STEPHEN turned toward a word and left. To Dru, I could say something I had often thought. "I don't know why she didn't divorce him then. But there are so many things I don't know. Why the Willsons didn't pay Phillipa off or why you stepped aside for her. Sometimes none of life makes sense."

We didn't see Stephen again until Easter Sunday. The country had gone to war on Good Friday. We knew it would change our lives—we never suspected how far-reaching that change would be. Stephen was a reserve officer and he got his orders before Hebard. He came in early that afternoon. Jenny when she saw him asked quickly, "How much time do we have, Stephen?"

"Then," she said, "we have all the rest of today together." "Stephen Willson," I told Dru, "didn't know what she intended, but God help me, I knew, and I let her go."

At 10 o'clock I locked her door as she would have and put the key in my pocket.

STEPHEN WILLSON was always at the house and Jenny bloomed again. While Hebard sat in at all-night poker sessions, Stephen took Jenny to concerts and to the theater. On Sunday mornings while Hebard slept, they rode and the three of them would have late breakfasts together. Hebard didn't care; he was away a great deal of the time and I think he was relieved to have Jenny off his hands, until somewhere, someone taunted him about it. Then there were bruises again and my Miss Jenny began to avoid Stephen. He came to me about it, but all I could say was, "You will have to let Jenny work it out, Stephen," or "If you love her, let her handle it her own way."

So he stayed away until one late February Sunday in 1917. It was a raw, foggy day, the kind that made you instinctively seek a fire and an old friend. He came in to tea.

I don't know what brought Hebard home that day, but when Stephen was ready to leave, he walked into the room. He ignored both Jenny and Stephen and said to me, "I'm surprised to see you here, Nana. Lovers usually contrive to be alone."

Stephen stepped toward him. They were both tall men, both well built. Stephen said, "That's enough of that kind of talk, Pharr."

Hebard raised his eyebrows. "Yes?" he said. He looked at my Miss Jenny. "When a woman like Jenny leaves her husband's bedroom, she usually has another one to go to."

The Missouri Pacific earnings for the third week of February were $813,000, an increase of $187,000. The earnings from July 1 were $27,606,598, an increase of $157,445.

George Spears, living 15 miles north of the city, has sold a house and lot on North Prospect street to J. E. Gregory, the consideration being $2,500. Mr. Spears also purchased 120 acres of land from Mr. Gregory in Heath's Creek township for $47 an acre.

Silverware in public eating places should not be stored in open compartments but should be wrapped in individual napkins. Selection of silverware from an open box results in contamination from soiled hands which may carry disease germs.

Drinking glasses in some public eating places have been found to contain hundreds of thousands of germs per glass, many of them capable of producing disease. Soda clerks do not clean glasses properly if inefficient dip solutions are employed, as the study of some of these dip solutions actually revealed as many germs as were present in sewage. The common drinking cup has been outlawed, but in many places it is replaced by carelessly washed and handled glassware.

Support Health Laws
Opportunity for employees to change from street to work clothes and places for them to wash their hands should be provided in all public eating places. Most of the intestinal diseases spread by food and improperly washed eating utensils result from carelessness in personal hygiene.

The public should support Public Health Departments in their efforts to provide safe eating places by getting behind a reasonable ordinance and working for its enforcement.

Speakers at Sorosis Tell What, In Their Opinion, City Needs

With the war over and the people of Sedalia, like the people of all cities and towns throughout the nation, looking forward to making their community a better place to live, the topic selected for the Sorosis program Monday afternoon was indeed one of interest. It was, "Panel on Civic Needs."

Mrs. J. C. Connor, program chairman for the afternoon, was presented by Miss Etta Hurley, chairman of the civics department.

Mrs. Connor introduced as the first speaker Rev. H. U. Campbell, pastor of the Fifth Street Methodist church, taking the place of Dr. Heber U. Hunt, who was called out of the city. Mr. Campbell, who was asked to take Mr. Hunt's place only two hours before he spoke, was as always, ready for any emergency, and gave a constructive outline of the greatest needs of Sedalia, adding bits of humor throughout his talk.

Not Critical

The speaker emphasized the fact that he was not talking in a critical vein but rather for the progress of the town. He said that he thought more of Sedalia than most people realized. After he and Mrs. Campbell were married they came here on their honeymoon. They came here again when he was presiding elder of the Sedalia district and were here three years. They returned here when he was sent as a pastor to the Fifth Street Methodist church and have been here seven years. His daughter married here. She and her husband have bought a home and her husband has engaged in business in Sedalia, so the Campbell family is really part of the community.

The first thing the city needs, Mr. Campbell said, is a city hall. It is an outstanding person should ask to see our city hall we would be ashamed to show it to them. We need a common meeting place, a community center. Groups now must meet in churches or schools and Sedalia is too large not to have a place where large groups of people can hold meetings of various kinds.

Streets Need Improving

Streets need to be improved, Mr. Campbell said. It is surprising how many streets are gravel, cinders and even mud. We should have a civic pride in our streets. Curbs should be repaired and street signs placed. With no reflection on the sanitary employees who do their work well, keeping the streets clean with the equipment they have, but there should be more modern equipment than just a cart and three brooms.

Mr. Campbell said he was amazed to find the lack of sewerage in Sedalia when he went with his son-in-law to buy a house. It was surprising how many places in various parts of town, all in the city limits, have no sewerage system. It is dangerous to the health of the community. A sewerage for the entire city of Sedalia should be one of the first things considered.

Need Swimming Pool

A fine modern swimming pool is needed and one should also be kept in mind for the Negro population. Swimming is a fine recreation and other smaller towns have nice pools to which Sedalians go to swim. The speaker also pointed out the need for a modern playground with tennis courts and a place for ball games. Children have been using the school grounds during the summer for playgrounds. There should be a stadium. A town a little less than a third the size of this has a beautiful stadium. There is a need for a junior high school and for more modern grade schools with cafeterias. There are no auditoriums, no gymnasiums, no stage in Horace Mann, Broadway or Jefferson schools. We need schools very badly.

All of these things will cost, Mr. Campbell said, but spread out over a number of years it will be worth our while, our time and our sacrifice. We should have a pride in our city. Where there is no vision the people perish.

Health Talk

Mrs. Connor then introduced Mrs. Hugh Janes, Pettis county public school nurse, who gave a very clear picture of the health needs of the community. She told of some of the ideas put forth by the nation and the state for health and medical care and then told of the needs of Sedalia. She told of the need for a convalescing home for older people, which Mrs. Connor also spoke of. This need they both considered urgent. Elderly people who need care but do not need to be in a hospital are a problem, Mrs. Janes said. Something on the order of the children's day nursery would be helpful, she said. Often younger people in a home have jobs and must give them up because there is no one to care for an elderly relative. It is either that or leave them alone. Old people should not be put on a shelf.

There is a need for a wing for communicable diseases. Our hospital has no facilities for caring for measles, scarlet fever, typhoid fever and other such diseases.

A place to keep mentally ill people until they can be taken to a sanitarium. A padded cell should be provided at either the hospital or jail.

The jails, the speaker said, are a disgrace. They should be cleaned up.

Mrs. Janes would like to see Pettis county have what only five counties in the state now have. A full time public health unit, with a medical doctor in charge and two or three public health nurses, which is what every county should have.

The milk ordinance here is very old and should be modernized the speaker said, and only two eating establishments in Sedalia meet all of the sanitary precautions.

At the conclusion of Mrs. Janes' talk Mrs. Connor announced that there would be a clinic for crippled children the last of March. She also spoke of the rehabilitation program and asked that anybody afflicted and unable to support themselves contact her. The program provides the training of watch repairing, work on automobiles and other trades.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. D. S. Lamm, vice-president, in the absence of the president, Mrs. Austin Hurley.

The speaker on next week's program will be Mrs. Cena Christopher Draper, of Warrensburg, who will call her program "Standing Room Only" and will give all the outstanding Broadway plays ending with a reading of "Dear Ruth," a comedy by Norman Krasna. Mrs. Cecil Owen, chairman of the art and drama department, will have charge of the program.

A luncheon in honor of Mrs. Draper will precede the program and members of Sorosis wishing to attend are asked to make reservations by calling the Heard Memorial club house before Friday.

Wacs May Now Volunteer

Former enlisted members of the Women's Army Corps may volunteer again for active duty by applying in writing at the Army Recruiting Station, postoffice building, Sedalia, it was stated here today by Capt. L. H. Metz, Army recruiting officer.

Volunteer WACs will relieve the critical shortage of personnel at separation centers, hospitals and other such installations, it was pointed out. Recruiting of WACs who have a skill the war department or a major continental force can use, is in no way connected with regular army enlistments, stressed Capt. Metz.

Applicants will be enlisted in the grade they formerly held at time of discharge. They must be 20 years old, but not yet 50. Complete information as to age, race, marital status, grade held at discharge and serial number should be included in the application, the recruiting officer said. Although women may state preference for overseas duty, assignments cannot be chosen. Volunteers must sign up for the duration of the war plus six months or until September, 1946, unless sooner relieved.

Final approval of all applicants will be by the war department.

Fight to Name Overcomes Odds GOP Chairman

Mattingly of Missouri Will Have Some Support

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—(P)—A fight between old line and other elements of the republican party appeared developing today over a successor to Herbert Brownell, Jr., as G. O. P. national chairman.

Brownell's call for a meeting here April 1 to act on his resignation prompted immediate suggestions from republican legislators that a full-time, well-paid successor be chosen.

A division of opinion developed immediately over whether the new party chairman should come from the west, where republicans showed most of their strength in the 1944 election, or from the east, where many members think most of their hardest work must be done this year.

The list of potential candidates is long, but the fact remains that the national committee—and not the legislators whose personal political fortunes are at stake—will pick Brownell's successor. The committee is composed of members from each of the 48 states.

Wheel Horses
Such wheel horses of the regular organization as Walter Hallahan of West Virginia, Werner Schroeder of Illinois, Representative Carroll Reece of Tennessee and former Chairman Harrison Spangler of Iowa are being suggested by the so-called conservative elements of the party.

From others less bound by G. O. P. traditions, such as Senator Morse of Oregon, came the proposal that Ralph Cate of Oregon be chosen by the committee. Cate was one of Wendell L. Wilkie's 1940 campaign managers. Younger committee members may be expected to throw some support to Barak T. Mattingly of Missouri.

Krug May Take Ickes Place

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—(P)—Congressional friends told reporters today that President Truman is considering the appointment of J. A. Krug, former chairman of the War Production Board, as secretary of interior.

Mr. Truman himself visited the senate for luncheon with old friends. When he came out of the office of Leslie L. Biffle, secretary of the senate, the president told a newsman that he would have an announcement to make at his news conference later in the afternoon.

The report immediately spread among senators that the 38-year-old Krug, who served in President Roosevelt's wartime setup, was under consideration for the post vacated by Harold L. Ickes.

GM and CIO 'Just Talked'

DETROIT, Feb. 26.—(P)—A two-hour morning session of negotiations in the General Motors strike apparently brought the prolonged work stoppage no closer to a settlement today.

When the parley adjourned for the luncheon recess Harry W. Anderson, GM vice-president in charge of industrial relations said: "We just talked."

James F. Dewey, special labor department mediator, who has sought for nearly a month to bring General Motors and the CIO United Automobile Workers' Union into agreement on a large number of issues, said: "We're laying everything on the table."

Taylor, Blue Springs, Mrs. Marie Sonnen, Kansas City, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ortwig and children Johnny, Elizabeth and Agnes of Sedalia.

The occasion was the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Walje.

Trade has expanded sufficiently to enable him to hire World War II veterans, Jack Leher (center) and Joe Bartolac as apprentices. (NEA TELEPHOTO)

Senate OK on Housing Plan

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—(P)—Legislation designed to provide 200,000 temporary homes this year for families of service men and veterans received Senate approval today.

The measure went to the House, which was engaged at the time in debating legislation intended to carry out President Truman's program for 2,700,000 new houses in the next two years.

The Senate bill calls for doubling a previous 100,000 home program and adds $250,000,000 to an earlier $150,000,000 appropriation.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) told the Senate it was contemplated that most of the $250,000,000 would be used in tearing down unneeded army barracks and putting the materials into construction of temporary homes at universities and in cities.

This will cost more per unit, he said, than the previously approved 100,000 home program involving chiefly movement of temporary housing from war plant and similar locations to new sites.

Surprise for Gen. MacArthur

TOKYO, Feb. 26.—(P)—General MacArthur was presented with an air medal at an informal surprise ceremony in his office last night.

A Public Relations office announcement said the award read: "For extraordinary achievement while participating in aerial flights on September 5, 1943, when the General led American paratroopers in an attack on Nadzab, New Guinea."

That was the first American paratroop attack of the Pacific fighting.

MacArthur "remained over the combat zone in enemy-infested air lanes until all paratroopers had landed and witnessed action of our troops in the initial contact with the enemy," the citation added.

Attempt to Enter Service Station

An attempt to enter the Cities Service filling station, Sixth street and Lamine avenue, was made some time early this morning by someone who failed to get inside the building. A glass in the front door had been smashed, but the lock could not be turned.

Officer Harry Butler found the broken glass on his regular check at 5:25 o'clock this morning.

Ralph Steele Home

Ralph Steele, who has just received his honorable discharge from Jefferson Barracks, arrived home this morning. Mr. Steele, his wife and baby, will make their home with Mrs. Steele's mother, Mrs. H. G. Satterwhite, 1109 West Second street, for the present. Mrs. Steele and baby have been residing with her mother while Mr. Steele was in service.

Activities in State Senate

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 26.—(P)—A bill to put all of Missouri's many professional examining boards under one administrative agency was a step nearer enactment in the state senate today.

Advanced to the final voting stage during a full afternoon session yesterday, the measure would set up a division of registration and examination in the new department of education.

An executive secretary would handle the joint clerical and registration functions of the various boards, said Senator W. W. Sunderwirth (R) of Eldorado Springs, said the boards themselves would continue to license members of their professions.

Included would be examining boards for accountants, architects, professional engineers, barbers, chiropodists, chiropractors, cosmetologists, dentists, embalmers, doctors, midwives, nurses, optometrists, osteopaths, pharmacists, real estate agents and veterinarians.

In other bills advanced to the voting stage, the senate approved a uniform teachers' certification system which would require future teachers to have four years of high school training; a division of mine inspection in the proposed new labor department; and decided to eliminate a $5 per pupil ceiling on the cost of transporting negro children to school.

Jap Industry To Russia

MUKDEN, Feb. 23 (Delayed)—(P)—The Soviet commandant of Mukden said today that some Japanese war industries in Manchuria had been sent to Russia under a big three agreement, made either at Yalta or Berlin.

(This was the first official confirmation of frequent reports that the Russians were removing heavy industry as war booty.)

In a press conference with Allied correspondents, Maj. Gen. Andrei Kovtoun-Stankovitch, commandant of Mukden, was asked about the so-called stripping of Japanese-built heavy machines, and what constituted war booty.

"As far as that is concerned, according to the decision of the big three, we could not leave it here, so it happens that some has been taken out," the Soviet General replied.

"In Europe, at places where Americans were stationed, some machines were taken and shipped home to Russia."

The General said the big three decision had been reached either at Yalta or Berlin—"it might have been either."

Pay Homage to Buffalo Bill

DENVER, Feb. 26.—(P)—Hundreds of westerners gathered on the towering summit of Lookout mountain today and paid homage to one of the old west's most fabulous figures—Col. William F. (Buffalo Bill) Cody.

Mounted cowboys stilled their prancing horses and a colorful party of Sioux Indians stood in solemn silence, as Boy Scouts in their heads bared—placed a wreath on Buffalo Bill's grave.

The picturesque ceremony commemorated the 100th birthday anniversary of the famous hunter, scout and showman.

Among the Indians who took part in the anniversary observance was Sioux chief Black Horse II, son of the original Chief Black Horse who, for more than three decades, toured the United States and Europe with Cody's Wild West show.

Bill Fails to Get Approval

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 26.—(P)—A bill to permit the University of Missouri and other state schools to issue revenue bonds toward construction of dormitories in relieving the acute student housing shortage failed to get house approval for introduction today after Rep. George H. Munger (D) of Stoddard county objected.

On a roll call vote only 54 members voted in favor of letting the bill be taken up during the revision session. At least 76 votes are needed.

Munger said he objected because all veterans, even those "who spent the war studying in college," would be benefited by the additional dormitories.

Rep. James P. Boyd (D) of Monroe county opposed Munger's stand, saying, "The construction program embodied in this measure doesn't only take care of the returning veteran but builds for future generations."

Close Franco Spain Border

PARIS, Feb. 26.—(P)—The French government today ordered the frontier with Franco Spain closed, effective at midnight, March 1, declaring the present situation in Spain constitutes a "danger for international security."

The French cabinet's action was taken after a lengthy explanation of the situation by Foreign Minister Georges Bidault. The tension between the two countries has been growing for a week.

Last Friday the consultative assembly overwhelmingly voted a protest over the execution of ten Spanish Republicans by the Spanish government. Madrid dispatches last night said 37 persons were convicted by a court martial at Alcalá de Henares on charges of attempting to reorganize the socialist party in Spain, and three of them were given 12-year prison terms.

The communique issued after today's cabinet meeting said the ministers had "decided to again inform the governments of the United States and Great Britain that the present situation in Spain constitutes a danger for international security."

Considering Withdrawal

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—(P)—Edwin W. Pauley said today he would "take under advisement" a suggestion that he request withdrawal of his nomination for undersecretary of the navy.

The proposal was made, in the form of a question, by Senator Saltonstall (R-Mass.) as the Senate naval committee resumed hearings on the California oil man's nomination to the navy post.

Some democratic congressmen, as well as republicans, have criticized Pauley's selection.

Interrupting Pauley's testimony, Saltonstall asked whether he would consider "as a patriotic American" asking withdrawal of his name if the committee finds there is no base for charges against his character.

Both Saltonstall and Chairman Walsh (D-Mass.) told Pauley he need not answer if he did not wish to do so.

 nexed their ninth conference victory in blasting Iowa State, 65-41
 here last night.
 "How those war vets hustle," Allen shouted. "They've got all the speed and spirit they had when they won the championship for me in 1943. The army didn't hurt their playing a bit."
 The Kansas victory erased Oklahoma's chances of gaining a tie for the crown when the teams
 clash at Norman, Okla., Thursday night.
 The new title was the eighth undisputed championship for Allen-coached Kansas teams since the Big Six's birth in 1928-29,
 and extended his Missouri Valley-Big Six championship totals to 20 in twenty-nine years. Four Jay-hawk teams have shared the Big Six honors.
 Black, who flew 51 photo reconnaissance missions as an army air corps pilot, boosted his scoring total for the season to 159 points by sinking eight field goals and three charity tosses against retiring champion Iowa State. With one more game to go, the stoop-shouldered 6 foot 4-inch cage wizard is only 16 points shy of the conference scoring record set by Oklahoma's Gerald Tucker in 1943.
 Schnellbacher, second man in the Jayhawk scoring machine with 84 points and Evans, who has played in only three games,
 served Uncle Sam's army as lieutenants.
 The Jayhawks lost their only game of the season to Oklahoma
 A. and M. last December, but Allen says his team has just started rolling and would have a 50-50 chance against any outfit in the country now.
 Would Kansas accept an invitation to play in the regional NCAA tournament at Kansas City Mar.
 22-23?
 "Why certainly," Allen replied,
 "if the boys want to play."

How About A
Flat Buck For Grandstands, Mr. Harridge?
Fan Wouldn't Have To Pick
Up Any Change
 By HARRY GRAYSON
 NEA Sports Editor
 NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—(NEA)—
 That Will Harridge, he's a card, all right.
 Putting on his deadead dead-pan expression, the frozen-faced president of the American League who's been out-
 busting Buster
 Keaton for years,
 emits the following gem of erudite logic explaining why the Yankee and the White Sox raised admission prices.
 Neither club
 had the slightest intention of increasing profits.
 They only did it to make the change come out even.
 Last year box seats were $2.40.
 Now they're $2.50. Grandstand seats were $1.20, so Larry Mac-Phail tacked on a nickel, so the purchaser can hand the bucks office man a dollar and a quarter and have the correct change, or $2
 and not have to handle a mess of chicken feed in return.
 "I am sure," says the American League savant, "that there are more fans who would just as soon pay a little more and get into the park quickly than there are those who would rather wait under congested circumstances at ticket booths."
 So, you see, the prices are hoisted only for the public's convenience. Mr. Harridge wouldn't want the New York and Chicago clubs misunderstood.
 Although he abhors race tracks,
 like all tried and true Judge Landis men, Mr. Harridge takes a leaf from their book "protecting"
 the paying guests from small change.
 Because they can't want the rank suckers bothered by pennies,
 the tracks annually split millions in breakage with the states. It's mighty good business when you get away with it.
 Well, anyway, it's the first time since he fell into his soft job that Mr. Harridge expressed a pointed opinion on anything, which is something. At that the statement makes about as much sense as any ever issued by a major league president. Only a bloke like Mr.
 Harridge could make an explanation like that and keep a straight face. That perhaps is not the least reason why the moguls hire rubber stamps.
 Mr. Harridge has got something there, only he doesn't go far

Hot Argument on Over MIAA Title
 KANSAS CITY, Feb. 26—(P)—
 Today's hot argument — did Maryville win the unofficial M. I.
 A. basketball title for 1946
 or should Warrensburg and Cape Girardeau share first place honors?
 G. H. Jameson of Kirksville, loop secretary, said last night the season just ended was "not operated under the conference's supervision" and he did not know who won the unofficial title.
 The controversy arose after Commissioner Artie Eilers of St.
 Louis ruled that the Maryville Bears, who finished with the best won and lost record (8-2)
 should be put in fourth place because war veteran Harold Hutcheson, Maryville ace, was ineligible
 and games in which he played should be forfeited.
 Warrensburg, which benefited
 by one of the forfeits, immediately laid claim to the title at 8-2.
 Cape Girardeau, stuck in a second place tie with Springfield at 6-4, yesterday claimed half of first place on basis of Eilers' ruling.
 Cape officials contended that two games lost to Maryville should be assigned to their win column.
 "We agreed at our meetings in Kansas City last December that our (MIAA) regular rules and regulations (suspended during the war) would not become effective until September 1, 1946," Jameson told the Associated Press. "I told Maryville authorities in a letter that it was my opinion that they should not play Hutcheson, but that as far as the rules of the conference were concerned it was OK for the simple reason we were not playing under our regular rules."
 Heads of the MIAA school athletic departments are expected to meet this week to decide what team will represent the conference in a qualifying tournament to the National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball meet here March 11-16. The qualifying tournament is tentatively set for March 6-7 at Kansas City.

Observation Post
 Among the 3,117 boxers' records in Nat Fleischer's new ring record book, which will be off the presses in about three weeks, you'll find a guy who had something like 21 fights and was knocked out 19 times. . . . Explaining the inclusion of such an unimpressive record, Nat observes: "You gotta put him in; he's the University of Chicago of boxing."

Shorts and Shells
 The Cleveland Browns, who grabbed a city, a stadium, a flock of ball players and even a publicity man from the ex-Cleveland, now Los Angeles, Rams of the National football league also have signed up Red Conkright, who was a key man in the Rams' re-scouting system to serve as scout and end coach. . . . Al Crawford, U. of North Carolina heavyweight wrestler, scored six falls in less than six minutes this season. He's an ex-GI who was national amateur champ before he went into the army.

Quote, Unquote
 Jinx Tucker, veteran Waco,
 Tex., sports writer, here to cover tomorrow's Baylor-NYU game: "I never thought I'd see the day when I made a trip with a basketball team. A few years ago basketball was where you went when you didn't have any place to go."

Pensacola Open
To Ray Mangrum
 By Chick Hosh
 PENSACOLA, Fla., Feb. 26—(P)— Ray Mangrum, the steel nerved pro from Los Angeles, today headed for St. Petersburg and the ninth tournament of golf's winter
 tour $1,500 richer after beating Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., in an 18-hole playoff yesterday for the Pensacola open title.
 Mangrum shot the front nine in an even par 36, and came in with a four-under 32 for a 68,
 a Hogan had a one-under-par 71
 on the 6,100-yard Country club course. He was out in 38 and came in with 33.
 The extra round was made necessary when Hogan blew a three-stroke lead on the final nine of the 72-hole event to finish in a 277 tie with Mangrum Sunday.
 Hogan was no match for the lanky Californian yesterday and never threatened after both pared the first hole of the playoff round.

Goering Where he Belongs, in
The Dock of the Allied Court
 BY DE WITT MACKENZIE
 AP World Traveler
 NUERNBERG, Germany, Feb.
 26.—Your correspondent has run into Reichsmarshal Herman Goering here and is mighty glad to see him again. Because this time he is where he belongs—in the dock of the Allied court on the charge of crimes against humanity.
 Hitler's Crown Prince is looking far better than I've ever seen him, especially since he has lost a huge amount of fat he used to lug about with him. He also seems remarkably cheerful and full of beans,
 if you will pardon the expression,
 especially for one who is sitting on death's doorstep. He has lost little if any of the self confidence and ego he possessed when I saw him in action at Munich in 1938, and later in Berlin, as he and his chief were putting the finishing touches on their conspiracy against mankind.
 Still it isn't surprising to see Goering battling for life with a grin and a fair expression of nonchalance. For to give the devil his due, Hermann has never been accused of lacking physical courage. He won his spurs in the first world war, you know, with his spectacular showmanship and daring.
A New Leader
 I was on the British front when the famous Baron Richthofen, leader of the "flying circus," was shot down in his crimson plane.
 He was Germany's greatest ace and a lot of folk wondered what would happen to the circus. They soon found out. For another leader came over in a crimson plane—and that was young Goer-
 ing.
 So Hitler's runnerup is making a fight of it in court. Of course he knows very well that his chances of escaping death are almost nil. However, he's sticking to the old adage that while there's life there's hope—and anyway, it pleases his vanity to attract attention in a court room crowded with the nationals of many countries.
Central Figure
 He's the central figure in the trial—and how well he realizes it, as he scribbles notes for his attorney, nods approval of arguments by the defense or shakes disapproval of some point by the prosecution. Goering's penchant for theatricals has given a lot of folk the idea that he's just a buf-
 foon, but don't get that mistaken notion. He's smart and his organizing ability and driving force had much to do with putting the Reich
 on such a powerful war footing

Defendant Lived

 The Louise Jackson arrested and sentenced Monday to ten days in the county jail is not Mrs. Louise Jackson who resides at 300
 North Washington. The Jackson woman who appeared in court
 lives at 208 East Jefferson, according to the police report.

Aviation's need for magnesium in plane construction during the war skyrocketed production of that material from 3,500 tons in 1939 to 270,000 tons in 1944.

 Time: 8:30 Tuesday night.
 Place: State Guard Armory.
 Referee: Jimmy Parker, St. Joseph.

Sailor Blasse
 formerly of the United States navy,
 was one of the outstanding wrestlers of the Olympic auditorium in Los Angeles, Calif., in 1944, and he now invades the middleweight to win for himself favoritism in this section. Blasse meets Brother Jonathan, Ogden, Utah, in the semi-windup event of the American Legion wrestling show tonight at the State Guard armory.
 The match, although the semiwindup should be as attractive and interesting to see as the main event in which Marshall Estep meets Babe Zaharias of Columbus, Ohio, the coming "bad boy" of the wrestling ring. Estep needs no introduction to local fans but Zaharias is a new comer here.
 The new face to appear in the local ring comes from a family of grapplers.
 Opening tonight's card will be Larry Tillman, Muskogee, Okla., giving Sonny Meyers of St. Joseph, Mo., an opportunity to "get even." These two appeared against each other several weeks ago in a team match which was won by Tillman's team. Meyers didn't appreciate the rough treatment he received at the hands of Tillman and through the help of his team mate.
 Jimmy Parker of St. Joseph,
 will handle the official "business"
 in the ring tonight.

Capital of India Rebuilt Eight Times

Remnants of Fine Palaces
Still Remain

By Hal Boyle
NEW DELHI, Feb. 26—(P)—
Few world cities have had a more turbulent past than duty
Delhi — ancient capital of India which has been built and rebuilt eight times in as many centuries.
Tombs of forgotten kings and warriors stud its unwashed countryside and to walk among old Delhi's splendid ruins is to stroll through more than a thousand year of troubled history.

Here still remain great remnants of some of the finest palaces and mosques ever built in the Orient, and in the center of this welter of dead ambitions and outworn empires has been reared
the new capital of modern India.

Only a wide stretch of park
grass separates old Delhi, crowded with a half-million Indians, and the antiseptically clean New Delhi, a British designed paradise of terra cotta dwellings, wide boulevards and vast expensive red sandstone government buildings peopled by some 70,000 Indian and British officials and well-to-do foreigners.

Vast Differences
Old Delhi is age old India.
New Delhi is an architect's dream of what new India may become.
Old Delhi is swarming pictureesque with flies and bargaining and disease and poverty — and life. New Delhi is a painted wonderland that first makes you gasp and then quickly falls into a colorful monotony — too perfectly regular to be alive.

One city is Huck Finn. The other is little Lord Fauntleroy.
It is recorded that the late
"Tiger of France," Georges Clemenceau, after being shown the unhappy shotgun wedding of the Greek classical and Mogul Indian architecture in which India's seat of government is imprisoned in stone, gave this Gallic verdict:
"Well at least they should make some of the most interesting ruins
in antiquity."

Grandeur
Even this is doubtful. The buildingest man in Delhi's history has left the best monuments —
Shah Jahan, who built the famous
"Red Fort," the Jama Masjid, still one of the world's greatest temples after three centuries and the Taj Mahal at Agra, most renowned building in India.

The Red Fort, or "Lal Kila," still shows vestiges of the grandeur that once made it the most magnificent palace in the Far East. It had silver ceilings, rare gardens, unrivaled fountains and was hung with enough silk to satisfy Manhattan stocking shortage.
Shah Jahan, "Flame of the Faith" finished it in 1648 and was deposed soon afterward by his son,
who improved the real estate.

Paradise on Earth
Over the entrance to his jewel studded "divanikas" or hall of private audience was poetic Persian inscription:
"If there be a paradise on earth,
"O it is here, it is here, it is here."
The boast was well founded.
In 1739 Nadir Shah of Persia sacked the palace and got away with the Kohinoor diamond, between 120 and 280 million dollars worth of treasure and the most expensive seat ever built, the 24 million dollar "Peacock Throne." The throne was later broken up for its jewels.

More of a braggart with less reason was Chandra, Hindu ruler of the Fourth century, who celebrated his conquests by erecting a pure iron pillar that was great shakes in his day but which could be turned out any afternoon by an arsenal manufacturing 16-inch naval guns.

The inscription listing his many feats offhandedly refers to Chan-

A Long Journey Ends...Success...Johnny Finds Curley

This is truly the end of a long journey. It started out in Italy when a 13-year-old Italian boy named Johnny Camera stowed away on an American troop ship and came to New York. Here immigration authorities held him, trying to decide what course should be taken with his case. Former army Sgt. Curley Thompson of Waxahachie, Texas, agreed to pay for his expenses and agreed to adopt Johnny if they would only let the boy legally enter the U. S. Patience won out and Johnny was given a 60-day leave to visit Curley in Waxahachie. These pictures take you along with Johnny as he arrived in Texas: Top left: Smiling like the happy boy he is, Johnny Camera came home to Texas to be greeted by Col. Carl Phinney of Dallas, Texas, a former quartermaster officer with the 36th division in Italy. To left of Col. Phinney is Leroy Thompson, brother of Curley. Mrs. A. D. Thompson, Curley's mother, and in the background Mr. A. D. Thompson and another brother, S/Sgt. R. M. Thompson. Top right: Jess Cariker of Waxahachie, who got the pretty sheriff's badge, to which Johnny replied, "From the big sheriff in Dallas." (meaning Sheriff Smoot Schmidt, who is something over six feet three) Bottom left: John Arden, director of the Chamber of Commerce of Waxahachie, presents Johnny with life-time passes to all the Waxahachie theaters. Mr. Arden said the passes were good for 60 days or 60 years. Bottom right: Too overwhelmed for words, Johnny finally meets another Thompson, Charley Thompson, 13-year-old younger brother of Curley; Mrs. A. D. Thompson; Johnny Camera; Curley Thompson; Mr. A. D. Thompson; and behind is S/Sgt. R. M. Thompson. (NEA PHOTOS)

afternoon while at work on the

Improvements For Teen-Town

The junior Teen Town board held a meeting at 7:30 Monday night at Teen Town, with "Eddie" Rogers, president, presiding. Harry Brougher, 1008 South Carr avenue,
is president of the senior Teen Town board, met with the junior board.

After lengthy discussion the board reached a decision to meet once every two weeks instead of the present rate, once a month.
Mr. Brougher gave a short talk in which he outlined the plans for Teen Town for the coming year.
A major project, Brougher said,
will be to improve the appearance of the Teen Town building. The entire interior will be repainted and decorated by volunteers from the junior and senior boards and by other interested citizens. If the assistance of art students from Smith-Cotton can be obtained, murals will be painted on the walls.

The senior board is planning to install a gas heating unit to replace the two coal stoves.

Also, during the following year an attempt will be made to organize Teen Towns in the smaller communities that surround Sedalia.

Brougher complimented Mrs.
Ollie Streit, who is in charge of Teen Town and acts as chaperone, on her fine work during the past year and announced that she will continue in her present position.

Patrol Looks For New Men

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 26 —
(P)—The Missouri State Highway
Patrol is looking for new men.
Col. Hugh H. Waggoner, Patrol superintendent, said Monday he is seeking applicants for jobs as patrolmen now that the legislature has authorized an increase in the state police force from the present 165 men to 215.

Colonel Waggoner said he hoped to get several hundred applications during March. After examinations the first of April he will select the best 50 men for study in the Patrol school.

Veterans will be given "every consideration" in the tests, Waggoner said. The men must be over 24 and under 35 years of age, be resident of Missouri for at least three years, have a high school education and be of average height—not less than five feet eight inches nor more than six feet
three inches tall.

Applications can be filed at any troop headquarters or at headquarters here, Waggoner said.

Story Was Not From Novel

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 26—(P)—The Eighth District U. S. circuit court of appeals ruled Monday that the 20th-Century Fox Film Corp. production, "Alexander's Ragtime Band," was not based upon the unpublished novel of a St. Louis writer.

In a 2 to 1 decision, the court found there was no evidence that the film company had access to a novel, "Love Girl," written by Mrs. E. Marie Oehler Dieckhaus, formerly of St. Louis, but now living in Casper, Wyo.

Mrs. Dieckhaus had filed a plagiarism suit in U. S. District court.
Judge George H. Moore had ruled in her favor and had ordered the film company to permit her to share in all profits of the picture.

June period will be the same as

For States To Carry Burden Extending Aid

Suggested They Take Full Relief
To The Needy

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26—(P)—
Two Republican members of the House Ways and Means committee declared Monday that any expansion of the retirement and survivors phase of the social security program should be accompanied by an end of federal relief payments.

Reps. Knutson (R-Minn) and Curtis (R-Neb) suggested at a committee hearing that states, under an expanded social security plan, should take over the entire burden of relief payments to the needy.

The public assistance portion of the social security plan now in effect calls for government contributions to states which supply matching funds to take care of destitute persons.

A contrary view was presented by Arthur J. Altmeyer, chairman of the social security board, who said that instead of leaving public assistance responsibility solely to states the board wants even more liberal payments made to needy people and their dependents.

"It seems to me," Curtis said,
"that with the heavy burden to the federal government there certainly should be some portion of this program returned to the states."

Review of Plan

Altmeyer gave the committee,
at the start of a complete congressional review of the 10-year-old social security plan, recommendations for expanding the scope and increasing the amount of benefit payments in old age and survivors insurance.

He called for inclusion in the plan of approximately 21,000,000
agricultural, domestic and governmental workers, as well as employed businessmen and farmers,
now exempt.

Social security cards for old age and survivors insurance have been issued to 84,000,000 persons, he said, but because they shift from covered and uncovered employment from time to time only approximately 40,000,000 have steadily built up retirement credits.
